DR. JACK R. BORSTING was Professor of Business Administration and Dean Emeritus, Marshall School of Business, University of Southern California (USC). From 1994 to September 2001, he served as the Executive Director of the Center for Telecommunications Management (CTM) at USC, as well as the Morgan Stanley Professor of Business Administration. From 1988 to 1994, Dr. Borsting was Dean of USC's School of Business Administration and Robert Dockson Professor of Business Administration. From 1983 to 1988, he was Dean of the School of Business Administration at the University of Miami.

Previously, Dr. Borsting was Assistant Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) for the United States Department of Defense, appointed by Presidents Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan. As Comptroller, he acted as Chief Financial Officer for the Secretary of Defense, with overall responsibility for the Department's information and budgeting systems, and was a member of the Defense Resources Board.

Dr. Borsting served as Provost and Academic Dean at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, California, and was a Visiting Distinguished Professor at Oregon State University. He served two years with the Air Force as Project Officer at the Air Force Special Weapons Center in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

In 2000, the Institute for Operations Research & the Management Sciences (INFORMS) awarded Dr. Borsting its Steinhart Prize for Military Operations Research. Oregon State University presented Dr. Borsting with its Distinguished Service Award, and the Operations Research Society of America (ORSA) awarded him its Kimball Medal for Distinguished Service to the Profession. The United States Department of Defense twice awarded Dr. Borsting its Medal for Distinguished Public Service, and the Military Operations Research Society (MORS) has presented him with its Vance Wanner Award for Distinguished Service to the Profession.

Dr. Borsting was Past President of ORSA and MORS, and a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS), the International Engineering Consortium (IEC), INFORMS, and MORS. Dr. Borsting was a Member of the Army Science Board, the Board of Advisors of Adventis, the Naval Postgraduate School, and The One Hundred Club of Los Angeles. He was a Director and Chairman of the Board, of the Los Angeles Orthopaedic Hospital, and served on the Advisory Council of the Electric Power Research Institute (EPRI). Dr. Borsting was a Trustee of The Rose Hills Foundation, the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA), and MetLife Investors Trust; and also served on a number of corporate boards, including Ivax Diagnostics and Whitman Education Group.

Dr. Borsting served as a board member of the Aerospace Corporation, the Center for Naval Analyses, Coast Savings Bank, McDonnell Douglas Finance Corporation, Northrop Grumman Corporation, PLATO Learning, Inc., Storer Communications, and Sun Bank of Miami. Dr. Borsting received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in Statistics from the University of Oregon, and his B.A. degree in Mathematics from Oregon State University. He published articles on operations research and statistics. ✱
